MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Address to the Corporate Council for International Policy

1. Action Requested: None. This is background information for your address to the Corporate Council for International Policy (CCIP), Wednesday, 24 October, 6:30 - 8:30 p.m., at the Georgetown Club, Washington, D.C.

2. Arrangements: You and Mrs. Casey are requested to be at the main entrance of the Georgetown Club at 6:30 p.m. where you will be met by the President of LITCO Bancorporation Arthur Hug and Director of CCIP Richard Wiener. (See biography of Mr. Wiener opposite.) They will escort you to the reception in the Wine Cellar Parlor. A receiving line is not planned. Dinner is at 7:00 p.m. in the Williamsburg Room and your speech is scheduled to begin at 7:50 p.m. You have been asked to speak for 20 minutes and to allow 20 minutes for questions and answers. The Council has agreed that your remarks are to be off-the-record. Mr. Hug will be seated on your right and will introduce you. A podium with a microphone will be placed a few feet from your table. (See for table seating arrangements opposite.) A business suit is the dress for the evening.

° Speech: Your proposed remarks are attached. Your remarks are a reworking of your recent Los Angeles/Seattle speeches, since the CCIP is a similar type group. A new section on terrorism and some other new material has been added. If you have further revisions and wish a final, cleaned up copy, please call [redacted]

International Policy. The CCIP provides its members, who are the leaders of American corporations and financial institutions, with insights into the issues that dominate the global economy. Through private, high-level briefings by public figures, round table discussions, and concise reports, members receive perspectives on the political and economic complexity of the international marketplace. The annual corporate fee for CCIP membership is $5000. The UNA's annual budget is about 3 million dollars. (For further information see brochures opposite and CCIP's membership list.) On 27 October, Vice President Bush will address the Council. Recent speakers include:

The Honorable John R. Block, Secretary of Agriculture
The Honorable William P. Rogers, Secretary of State
Dr. Robert A. Scalapino, Director of the Institute of East Asian Studies of the University of California
Dr. John Silber, member of the President's National Bipartisan
Committee on Central America
Vadim N. Kirichenko, Director of Economic Research of the Soviet Gosplan

Dear Mr. Weiner:

This is to confirm that CIA Director, William J. Casey, will be addressing an off-the-record dinner meeting of the Corporate Council for International Policy on October 24th at the Georgetown Club in Washington, D.C.

According to Carol Seifert's letter, the meeting begins at 6:30 p.m. with a reception followed by dinner then 20 minutes of remarks and 20 minutes of Q's and A's. I understand from our telephone discussion that the press will not be admitted or foreign nationals. Should there be a change in these arrangements, or if any publishers attend, please let me know. As the time draws nearer, I look forward to receiving the audience's names and affiliations.

Enclosed as you requested is a biography of Mr. Casey, and I will let you know whether he would prefer a table microphone or a lectern and microphone. An introduction by Arthur Hug will be an appropriate way to start the evening's program.

Thank you for the information, and I am sure it will be a enjoyable evening for all participants. Mr. Casey looks forward to meeting and talking with such a distinguished group. If I can be of any help please feel free to call me on

Dear Mr. Casey:

I was very pleased to hear from Arthur Hug that you would be our speaker and guest of honor at the October 24, 1984 meeting of the Corporate Council for International Policy to be held at the Georgetown Club in Washington, D.C. These dinner meetings run from 6:30 to 8:30, beginning with a reception and dinner followed by 20 minutes of remarks by the speaker and the same amount of time for discussion between the speaker and guests. Prior to the time of the meeting, I shall send you a list of those who will be attending. These gatherings of approximately 25 corporate leaders provide an excellent forum for amiable and substantive discussion.

For your information, I have enclosed our brochure. CCIP members draw on and support the United Nations Association, an independent policy institution.

Again, let me say how pleased we are to have you as our speaker and guest of honor.

Sincerely,

Carol M. Seifert
